

Dr Philippe LEVAN

Prize winner of the Medical college of Paris

Former Paris Hospital Intern

Former head of clinic of the Universities - Assistant of the Hospitals of Paris

Member of the French Society of Plastic and Aesthetic Surgery (SOFCPRE)

Expert of the French Agency for the Medical Safety of Health Products (AFSSAPS)

After his medical studies at Paris XI faculty of Medicine and his competition success at Paris Hospitals Internat, he firstly has been trained to general surgery in the most prestigious plastic surgery services (Necker, Rothschild and Saint-Louis hospitals).

Docteur Levan was called to serve the Invalides National Institution of Paris during his year of national service, as an aspirant surgeon. He learnt all surgery for injured and paralyzed civilians and militaries. He has benefited from a training in most sophisticated reconstructive surgery techniques.

After completing his medical internat, he worked for a year as a civil surgeon attached to the Hôpital d'instruction des armées Bégin near Paris. There, he completed his training in head reconstructive surgery.

Then, he has been head of clinic at Saint Antoine Hospital Burn Centre and in the plastic surgery service of Rothschild Hospital.

After that, he came to Saint Joseph Paris Hospital Group in the Plastic surgery service. He became Doctor Alain Bellavoit's assistant for nearly ten years. He is now head of the Plastic Surgery service.